

"COPPERHEAD" TO BE REVIEWED AT THE ALHAMBRA

Before the most appreciative audience the Alhambra theater has ever known, "The Copperhead" was shown by special arrangement with the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

The invited guests were members of the school board and teachers from all schools of Ogden as well as the city officials. So intense was the appeal of the picture that it was several minutes after the last scene was projected before the audience regained its composure and started to leave the theater.

Lionel Barrymore has surpassed all previous screen work and the details of the picture have been carried throughout. An entire village having been built to actual photographic prints which were secured of Millville, Ill., in the years of 1845 and 1860. The following comments speak for themselves.

"Copperhead" is a story having the most powerful grip I have ever seen. It is so full of patriotic inspiration—a great story for Americanization. No one should miss seeing it.

J. E. Beeson

As a lesson in Americanization it is unsurpassed. It holds you with irresistible force. It is strictly American.

Grace B. Overstreet

One of the strongest pictures ever portrayed on the screen. A picture that every child should see. It shows how one who is in the right as American man, woman and "The Copperhead," can withstand public condemnation and live above mere public opinion. It is a vital, living, gripping photoplay.

Florence G. Brown.

A very wonderful and stirring picture.

G. L. Peterson

A picture which should be seen by all pupils.

M. Thoreson.

A fine lesson in patriotism.

R. Davis.

"The Copperhead"—Every American should see it.

Norma Taylor

"The Copperhead" is a fine lesson in Americanism, patriotism and extreme loyalty.

Emma Chesney.

DUSTIN FARNUM AT UTAH THEATRE ON SUNDAY

"It is one of the best dramas I have ever starred in," says Dustin Farnum of his latest super-picture in expressing his satisfaction with all the details of "A Man's Fight." In this new offering, Mr. Farnum enacts the role of the son of an aristocratic family who, through circumstances, pays the penalty for a deed of which he is innocent. These earlier scenes are laid in and around New York, then come scenes at Sing Sing, and the later part of the play has its location in the West with Dustin Farnum in the role of a successful mine manager. Here adverse fate again takes a hand and love also enters into the plot. Some wonderful scenic effects taken at the San Juan Capistrano mission, in lower California, are said to give a beautiful and spectacular touch to the production. This mission is reported never before to have been filmed, its inclusion now in "A Man's Fight" being by grace of a special dispensation granted to United Picture Theaters, Inc.

A cast of well known players supports Mr. Farnum in his latest offering. Harry Van Meter, who plays the important role of the butler, has won much praise for his conception of the part. Mr. Farnum personally is said to have pronounced Mr. Van Meter's Man's Fight, and is the player who appeared as the One-Legged Woman with this star in "A Man in the Open." Lois Wilson as Mr. Farnum's leading woman, and J. Barney Sherry, Dorothy Wallace, Miles McCarthy, Betty Bouton, Dick La Reno and Bert Appling are especially prominent in important roles. After his many pictures in the habitments of a cowboy Mr. Farnum's admirers will be curious to see him in his present modern evening dress role.
